

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

SPENCER KRAWITZ and JUSTINA
MCLAUGHLIN, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiffs,

v.

FIVE BELOW, INC.,

Defendant.

Civil Action No.

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. This is a class action on behalf of all of Five Below, Inc.’s (“Defendant” or “Five Below”) employees in the State of New York that engage in manual work in the course of their employment.

2. New York Law requires companies to pay their manual workers on a weekly basis unless they receive an express authorization to pay on a semi-monthly basis from the New York State Department of Labor Commissioner. See New York Labor Law (“NYLL”), Article 6, §191.

3. Defendant has received no such authorization from the New York State Department of Labor Commissioner.

4. The New York Court Of Appeals has explained that this law is “intended for the protection of those who are dependent upon their wages for sustenance.” People v. Vetri, 309 N.Y. 401, 405 (citing former Labor Law § 196).

5. Defendant has violated this law by paying its manual workers every other week rather than on a weekly basis.

6. Plaintiffs therefore demand liquidated damages, interest, and attorneys' fees individually and on behalf of a putative class comprised of all manual workers employed by Defendant in New York State over the last six years.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Defendant conducts significant business in New York. Defendant owns and operates numerous Five Below retail store locations within New York.

8. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this proposed class action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d), which, under the provisions of the Class Action Fairness Act ("CAFA"), explicitly provides for the original jurisdiction of the federal courts in any class action in which at least 100 members are in the proposed plaintiff class, any member of the plaintiff class is a citizen of a State different from any defendant, and the matter in controversy exceeds the sum of $5,000,000.00, exclusive of interest and costs. Plaintiffs allege that the total claims of individual members of the proposed Class (as defined herein) are well in excess of $5,000,000.00 in the aggregate, exclusive of interest and costs.

9. Venue is proper in this District under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1) because this is a judicial district in which a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred.

PARTIES

10. Defendant Five Below, Inc. is a Pennsylvania corporation with a principal place of business in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Defendant owns a chain of Five Below retail stores that employ hundreds, if not thousands, of manual workers in the State of New York.

11. Plaintiff Spencer Krawitz is a citizen of New York who resides in Holbrook, New York. Since 2012, Plaintiff Krawitz has been employed by Defendant at a Five Below store located in Commack, New York. At least 25% of Plaintiff Krawitz's job responsibilities at Five Below include manual labor, including tasks such as cleaning, unpacking, stocking and organizing inventory, tending the cash register, and assembling storefront sets. Plaintiff Krawitz has been paid every other week, rather than weekly, during the entirety of his employment with Defendant. Thus, for half of each biweekly pay period, Plaintiff Krawitz has been injured in that he was temporarily deprived of money owed to him, and he could not invest, earn interest on, or otherwise use these monies that were rightfully his. Accordingly, every day that said money was not paid to him in a timely fashion, he lost the time value of that money.

12. Plaintiff Justina McLaughlin is a citizen of New York who resides in Troy, New York. From approximately November 2018 to March 2020, Plaintiff McLaughlin was employed by Defendant at a Five Below store located in Rensselaer, New York. At least 25% of Plaintiff McLaughlin's job responsibilities at Five Below included manual labor, including tasks such as cleaning, mopping, unpacking, stocking and organizing inventory, and tending the cash register. Plaintiff McLaughlin was paid every other week, rather than weekly, during the entirety of her employment with Defendant. Thus, for half of each biweekly pay period, Plaintiff McLaughlin has been injured in that she was temporarily deprived of money owed to her, and she could not invest, earn interest on, or otherwise use these monies that were rightfully hers. Accordingly, every day that said money was not paid to her in a timely fashion, she lost the time value of that money.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

13. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23, Plaintiffs seek to represent a class defined as all persons who worked as manual workers in their employment for Defendant in the State of New York from six years preceding this Complaint to the date of class notice in this action (the "Class").

14. Members of the Class are so numerous that their individual joinder herein is impracticable. On information and belief, members of the Class number in the thousands. The precise number of Class members and their identities are unknown to Plaintiffs at this time but may be determined through discovery. Class members may be notified of the pendency of this action by mail and/or publication through the employment records of Defendant.

15. Common questions of law and fact exist as to all Class members and predominate over questions affecting only individual Class members. Common legal and factual questions include, but are not limited to: whether Defendant was required to pay class members on a weekly basis, whether class members were paid on a weekly basis, and whether Defendant violated NYLL § 191.

16. The claims of the named Plaintiffs are typical of the claims of the Class in that the named Plaintiffs worked as manual workers for Defendant during the class period but were not provided with compensation for their work on a weekly basis.

17. Plaintiffs are adequate representatives of the Class because their interests do not conflict with the interests of the Class members they seek to represent, they have retained competent counsel experienced in prosecuting class actions, and they intend to prosecute this action vigorously. The interests of Class members will be fairly and adequately protected by Plaintiffs and their counsel.

18. The class mechanism is superior to other available means for the fair and efficient adjudication of the claims of the Class members. Each individual Class member may lack the resources to undergo the burden and expense of individual prosecution of the complex and extensive litigation necessary to establish Defendant's liability. Individualized litigation increases the delay and expense to all parties and multiplies the burden on the judicial system presented by the complex legal and factual issues of this case. Individualized litigation also presents a potential for inconsistent or contradictory judgments. In contrast, the class action device presents far fewer management difficulties and provides the benefits of single adjudication, economy of scale, and comprehensive supervision by a single court on the issue of Defendant's liability. Class treatment of the liability issues will ensure that all claims and claimants are before this Court for consistent adjudication of the liability issues.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT I

New York Labor Law – Failure to Pay Timely Wages

19. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations in all preceding paragraphs.
20. The timely payment of wages provisions, NYLL § 191, and its supporting regulations apply to Defendant and protect Plaintiffs and the Class.
21. Defendant failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Class on a timely basis as required by NYLL § 191(1)(a).
22. Due to Defendant's violations of the NYLL, Plaintiffs and the Class are entitled to recover from Defendant the amount of their untimely paid wages as liquidated damages, reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, and pre-judgment and post-judgment interest as provided for by NYLL § 198.
